PATH A — completed on the call

Section 1 — Before the call

Day -1, 4:15pm · SMS from the member centre's registered number

Hi Maria — this is Santa Rosa Community Health. Your Medi-Cal renewal is due soon. Someone from our team will call you in the next day or two to help, free of charge. If you can, have a recent pay stub or your last tax return nearby. We will never ask you for money or your Social Security number. Questions? Call us on (707) 555-0142.

Section 2 — Maya AI Call

Mvue AI Agent: Hello, is this Maria Reyes?

Patient: Yes, who's this?

Mvue AI Agent: Hi Maria. My name is Maya and I'm an automated assistant calling for Santa Rosa Community Health, where you get your care. This call is recorded. I'm calling about your Medi-Cal renewal, and I can put you through to a person any time you'd like. Is now an okay time for a few minutes?

Patient: Oh — yeah, I got a text yesterday.

Mvue AI Agent: That's right, that was us.

Mvue AI Agent: Just so I know I'm speaking with the right person, can you tell me your date of birth?

Patient: March 8th, 1983.

Mvue AI Agent: Thank you.

Mvue AI Agent: Santa Rosa Community Health sent you a Medi-Cal renewal packet about three weeks ago, to 412 Sebastopol Road. A lot of these get lost in the post or go to an old address, so I want to check — did that reach you?

Patient: Sebastopol Road? No, we moved. In... May, I think.

Mvue AI Agent: That happens constantly, and it's the most common reason people lose their Medi-Cal — so I'm glad we caught it. What's the address now?

Patient: 1180 Dutton Avenue, apartment 6. Santa Rosa.

Mvue AI Agent: Let me read that back — 1180 Dutton Avenue, apartment 6, Santa Rosa. Is that right?

Patient: Yes.

Mvue AI Agent: Thank you. I've noted that, and a person will need to update it with the county — I can't do that part myself. Let me keep going and then get you to them.

Two things Maya does not do here. She does not claim to have updated anything — only the county's record stops the next letter going astray. And she does not end the call on a missed packet, which is where the original flow dead-ended.

Mvue AI Agent: Have you already sent the renewal back to the county?

Patient: No, I never got it.

Mvue AI Agent: Understood.

Mvue AI Agent: There are counsellors at Santa Rosa Community Health who do these renewals every day, in Spanish, free of charge. They can go through the form with you and send it in for you, or if you'd rather do it yourself I can just answer questions. Which would you prefer?

Patient: They can do it? I don't have to fill anything out?

Mvue AI Agent: They'll go through it with you and send it in, yes.

Patient: Okay, that's better. I don't understand those forms.

Mvue AI Agent: Before I pass you over, three quick things so we don't waste your time.

First — do you have about twenty minutes now, or would later be better?

Patient: Now is okay. I'm home.

Mvue AI Agent: Second — are you on a mobile right now that takes photos? At some point we'll need a picture of a document, and I want to know which way is easiest for you.

Patient: Yeah, I'm on my phone.

Mvue AI Agent: And third — is there anyone at home who usually helps you with your phone or with paperwork?

Patient: My daughter does sometimes, but she's at school.

Mvue AI Agent: One more thing so it's not a surprise. For a counsellor to send the form in on your behalf, you'll need to give permission on the recording — they'll read out exactly what you're agreeing to, and it takes a couple of minutes. It's completely your choice, and you can change your mind at any time. Does that sound okay?

Patient: Like a signature?

Mvue AI Agent: Exactly like that, just spoken instead of written.

Patient: Okay.

Mvue AI Agent: Let me put you through to Diana now. She'll have everything we've just talked about, so you won't need to start again.

Patient: Okay, thank you.

Transfer to the human agent

Human Agent: Hi Maria, I'm Diana, a certified enrolment counsellor at Santa Rosa Community Health. Maya's filled me in — you've got your renewal to send back, and you've moved since last year so the packet went to the old place. Let's get it done. I'll need about twenty minutes.

Patient: Yes, that's right.

Human Agent: Just to be sure I've got the right file — can you confirm your date of birth and the new address?

Patient: March 8th, 1983. 1180 Dutton Avenue, apartment 6.

Human Agent: Got it, thank you.

Human Agent: Is there anyone else already helping you with your Medi-Cal — a family member or an advocate who deals with the county for you?

Patient: No, just me.

Human Agent: Before we go further I want to be clear about something. I can send this form in for you, but that means giving me permission to act for you with the county. That's entirely your choice. You can change it or cancel it at any time, and it makes no difference at all to the care you get here — you'll be seen either way. You can also fill the form in yourself and I'll just help you understand it. Which would you like to do?

Patient: No, I want you to do it. I don't want to make a mistake.

Human Agent: I'm going to read you what you're agreeing to, in a few short pieces, and I need you to answer out loud each time so it's on the recording. Ready?

Patient: Okay.

Human Agent: First — you're appointing Santa Rosa Community Health, and me as the counsellor helping you, to act as your representative for your Medi-Cal. That lets us give the county information, receive their letters, and send in this form for you. Do you understand and agree to that?

Patient: Yes.

Human Agent: Second — do you want that to cover everything to do with your Medi-Cal going forward, or only this renewal?

Patient: Just this one for now.

Human Agent: Only this renewal, that's fine.

Human Agent: Third — you can cancel or change this at any time by telling us or telling the county, and it doesn't affect your care here in any way. Do you understand?

Patient: Yes.

Human Agent: Fourth — everything you tell me today needs to be true and complete as far as you know. If there's something you're not sure about, tell me you're not sure and we'll find out rather than guess. Giving information you know to be false on this form is against the law. Do you understand that?

Patient: Yes, I understand.

Human Agent: And last — do you swear that the information you give me today is true and correct to the best of your knowledge?

Patient: Yes, I do.

Human Agent: Thank you. That's recorded and we can carry on.

Human Agent: Most of this is already filled in by the county, so I'm going to read it back and you tell me if anything's wrong. It's quicker than it sounds.

Your name, Maria Reyes. Address — I'll put the new one, 1180 Dutton Avenue apartment 6, Santa Rosa. Phone, the number we're on now, and there's an older landline listed. Do you still use that one?

Patient: No, that's gone.

Human Agent: I'll take it off. It says you'd like letters in Spanish and to be spoken to in Spanish — still right?

Patient: Yes please.

Human Agent: And best way to reach you — phone?

Patient: Phone, yes. I don't really do email.

Human Agent: It lists you, your husband Javier, and two children — Sofia and Mateo. Has anyone moved in or out since last year? Anyone married, had a baby, or turned nineteen?

Patient: My sister was staying with us but she left in March.

Human Agent: Was she on your Medi-Cal case, or just staying in the house?

Patient: Just staying. She has her own.

Human Agent: Then nothing changes for your case. And Sofia — how old is she now?

Patient: Eighteen. She's a senior.

Human Agent: Still at school full time, good — that matters when she turns nineteen, so we'll keep an eye on it next time.

Human Agent: Are you planning to file a tax return this year?

Patient: We did last year. Javier does it.

Human Agent: So he'd be the main filer, and you file together?

Patient: Yes, together.

Human Agent: And is anyone claiming either of you as a dependent?

Patient: No.

Human Agent: It says here you get $1,340 a month from Sunrise Packing. Is that still right?

Patient: More or less. Some weeks are longer.

Human Agent: Let me ask three things about that.

First — is $1,340 the amount before anything comes out? Before tax and deductions?

Patient: No, that's what goes in the bank.

Human Agent: Then we need the bigger number, the one at the top of your pay slip. Do you have one there?

Patient: Hold on... it says $1,612.

Human Agent: That's the one. Thank you — that's the most common thing people get caught by, and it's the reason a lot of renewals come back with questions.

This exchange is the single highest-value ninety seconds in the call. Reported net against verified gross is the classic reasonable-compatibility failure, and it is entirely preventable by asking.

Human Agent: Second — how often exactly? Every two weeks, or twice a month? They're slightly different.

Patient: Every two weeks. Fridays.

Human Agent: Every two weeks, good.

Human Agent: And third — you said some weeks are longer. Does the amount change much from month to month?

Patient: In summer there's more hours. Winter is slow.

Human Agent: Then rather than one pay slip, let's put down what you expect over the whole next year. That's usually fairer to you than a busy month or a slow one. Roughly what do you think the year looks like?

Patient: Maybe... twenty-two thousand? Javier makes more than me.

Human Agent: We'll put your part at around twenty-two thousand and note that it varies with the season. Now — is there any other money coming in for you? Anything cash?

Patient: I clean two houses on Saturdays. That's cash, there's no paper for it.

Human Agent: That's completely normal and it needs to go down. No pay slips is fine — for cash work we can use a tax return, or just write up a simple record of what comes in and what you spend on the work. Both are accepted. Roughly how much is that a month?

Patient: About two hundred, two fifty.

Human Agent: And do you spend anything to do it — cleaning supplies, petrol to get there?

Patient: Some supplies. Maybe thirty dollars.

Human Agent: Good, that comes off. I'll note self-employment at around $225 a month with about $30 of expenses, and we'll

Human Agent: Anything else that comes out that we should note — student loan interest, retirement payments, alimony?

Patient: No, nothing like that.

Human Agent: You're not on Medicare, and it doesn't show any other insurance. Do you have any coverage through work — health, dental, or vision?

Patient: No, nothing at the plant.

Human Agent: Based on what we've gone through, I need two things: your two most recent pay slips from Sunrise Packing, and a short written record of the Saturday cleaning work — how much comes in and what you spend. Do you have the pay slips with you?

Patient: I've got one here from the text you sent. The other one's in the drawer.

Human Agent: One is plenty to start with — let's do that one now and you can send the second whenever.

"Proof of income" would have got a blank. Naming the actual objects — your two most recent pay slips from Sunrise Packing — gets a document. And the pre-call text is why she is holding one at all.

Human Agent: I'm going to send you a text with a link so you can take a photo of it. Before I do — you're on a mobile right now?

Patient: Yes.

Human Agent: Okay. Put me on speaker first, then tapping the link won't cut our call off. Can you do that?

Patient: Um... let me see. Okay, I pressed it.

Human Agent: Great, I can still hear you.

This is the line that matters most in the whole document step. She is on her only device and believes touching the screen will hang up on the person helping her. She is wrong, and nobody normally tells her.

Human Agent: The text is coming from Santa Rosa Community Health, the same number that texted you yesterday. Tell me when it arrives.

Patient: It's here.

Human Agent: Tap the blue link. It'll open your camera. You don't need a password and there's nothing to download.

Patient: Okay, the camera's on.

Human Agent: Lay the pay slip flat, get all four corners in the picture, and take it somewhere with decent light. Take your time, there's no rush.

Patient: ...Okay, I took it. It's a bit dark.

Human Agent: Let's do one more near the window and I'll use whichever is clearer.

Patient: Okay, sent.

Human Agent: Perfect, I can see both come through. Give me a moment to check them while you're still with me.

Human Agent: That's readable and it's exactly what I needed. I'm going to put your renewal in now while you're on the line.

Human Agent: Done — it's submitted and I've got the confirmation. You'll get a text confirming it too.

Patient: That's it?

Human Agent: That's it.

Human Agent: Two things to expect. The county has up to forty-five days to decide, and they'll write to you — at the new address, because I've updated that too. If they need one more thing they'll send a letter asking for it. If that arrives, call us instead of worrying about it, on (707) 555-0142.

And if anything changes in the next few months — your address, your hours, who lives with you — tell the county within ten days. Or tell us and we'll help.

Patient: Okay.

Human Agent: One more thing whenever you get a chance — that second pay slip in the drawer, and the note about the cleaning work. Same link, it stays open. No rush, but sooner is better.

Patient: I'll do it tonight when my daughter's home.

Human Agent: Last thing, so I know I've been clear — what are you going to do if a letter turns up from the county?

Patient: Call you. Not throw it away.

Human Agent: Exactly right. Thanks Maria, take care.

Day 0, 21:45pm · Confirmation SMS

Santa Rosa Community Health: your Medi-Cal renewal was submitted today. The county will write to you at 1180 Dutton Ave Apt 6. If they ask for anything else, call us on (707) 555-0142 — we'll help. You don't need to do anything right now.

Day +3 · Supplementary documents

She said she'd do it that evening with her daughter, and she did. The M7 question — is there anyone at home who helps you — predicted this.

Day +14, +30, +60, +90 · Verification

[SYSTEM] 270/271 eligibility check · D+14 active · D+30 active · D+60 active, full scope · D+90 active, full scope

[SYSTEM] outcome_state = VERIFIED_RETAINED_D90 · case_state = CLOSED_SUCCESS · written back to member EHR · counted in treatment arm against holdout

This is where the case actually closes. Not at filing.

PATH B — documents not on hand

Human Agent: Based on what we've gone through, I need your two most recent pay slips from Sunrise Packing, and a short written record of the Saturday cleaning work. Do you have any of that with you?

Patient: Not here. Javier keeps the papers and he's at work until seven.

Human Agent: That's fine — everything else is done, we just need those. I'll send you a link now so it's on your phone ready, and you can send the photo whenever you get hold of them.

[SYSTEM] upload link generated and sent

Human Agent: Did the text come through? ... Good. When you're ready, tap the blue link and it opens your camera. No password, nothing to download. And if the link gives you any trouble at all, just reply to that text with a photo — works exactly the same for us.

The fallback is given now, at the only moment she has a person to explain it. It is also embedded in the message itself, so she has it in writing when she is alone.

Human Agent: When do you think you'll get a chance?

Patient: Tomorrow evening probably.

Human Agent: I'll make a note for Thursday. If we haven't heard by then, Maya will give you a quick ring — not to chase you, just in case the link didn't work.

Same as Path A Sections 4.3 and 4.4, with one difference — the teach-back changes:

Human Agent: So I know I've explained it — what are you sending us, and how?

Patient: The two pay slips. Photo on the link, or text it back.

Human Agent: Perfect. Speak soon, Maria.

 Total: 18 minutes 10 seconds. Nothing is filed yet.

Day +2 · No upload

[SYSTEM] upload window monitoring · nothing received · Maya reminder triggered

Mvue AI Agent: Hi Maria, it's Maya from Santa Rosa Community Health again. We sent you a link to send a photo of your pay slips and it hasn't come through yet. Nothing's gone wrong — I just want to check whether the link worked for you, or whether there's an easier way for you to get it to us.

Patient: Oh, I forgot. Javier gave them to me.

Mvue AI Agent: No problem at all. The link is still open on your phone from Tuesday, and if it doesn't work you can just reply to that text with a photo. Would either of those be alright?

Patient: Yeah, I'll do it now.

The question is about our channel failing, not her compliance. "It hasn't come through yet" instead of "you haven't sent it." She forgot, and the script gives her a way to say so without embarrassment — which is why she does it immediately instead of avoiding the next call.

Day +2, 30 minutes later

[SYSTEM] two documents uploaded · pre-validation PASS · counsellor notified for validation

Day +2 · Counsellor validates and files

No call needed. Diana validates against the form values captured on the original call, files, and the confirmation SMS goes out.

[SYSTEM] validated · filed via CBO Assister account · receipt captured · patient notified by SMS · verification scheduled +14/+30/+60/+90

The consent captured on day 0 is what makes this possible without another call. Without it, Diana would have to reach Maria again purely to obtain permission — and reaching her a second time is the hard part.

PATH C — patient will file it themselves

Identical to Path A up to  01:55. Diverges at willingness.

 01:55

Mvue AI Agent: There are counsellors at Santa Rosa Community Health who do these renewals every day, in Spanish, free of charge. They can go through the form with you and send it in for you, or if you'd rather do it yourself I can just answer questions. Which would you prefer?

Patient: No, I'll do it. I did it last year, it's fine.

Mvue AI Agent: That's completely fine. When are you planning to send it?

Patient: This weekend.

Mvue AI Agent: I'll set a reminder for around then. Do you have any questions about it while I'm here?

Patient: It asks about my pay — do I put what I take home?

Mvue AI Agent: No — put the amount before anything comes out, the bigger number at the top of your pay slip. That's the one they want.

Patient: Okay, good to know.

Mvue AI Agent: Anything else?

Patient: No, I think that's it.

Mvue AI Agent: Then you're all set. You can call Santa Rosa Community Health on (707) 555-0142 any time if you get stuck, and there are counsellors there who can take it over if you change your mind.

[CAPTURE] disposition = SELF_FILING · expected_date = weekend · KB answers given: KB-INC-01 · reminder scheduled

03:05 · Teach-back and close

Mvue AI Agent: Before you go — so I know I explained it right, which number are you putting down for your pay?

Patient: The big one. Before taxes.

Mvue AI Agent: That's the one. Take care, Maria.

 Total: 3 minutes 20 seconds.

A Tier-1 answer was given and the call still ends with a scheduled reminder and an open door — because a knowledge-base hit decides who answers the question, never whether we stop tracking the case. The original flow ended here with nothing scheduled.

Day +4 · Reminder, then verification

[SYSTEM] reminder call · patient confirms submitted · case_state = SUBMITTED (self-reported) · verification scheduled +14/+30/+60/+90 – case does NOT close on self-report

What to look at when you review these

Eight choices in the transcripts are not obvious, and each is there for a reason. If any of them look wrong to you, they are the ones to change.

1. The pre-call text does most of the work. Maria answers a stranger's call and cooperates because a message from her clinic arrived the day before. It is also why she is holding a pay slip at minute fifteen. Cheapest line item in the programme.
2. Maya blames the post office before asking about the packet. Naming the likely reason for a "no" before asking the question is why Maria volunteers the move instead of saying "yeah, I think so" to get off the phone.
3. The address correction does not end the call. Maya captures, flags, and carries on. The original flow dead-ended here on a manual-intervention flag.

4. Nothing happens before the consent gate at ⌚ 06:20. No form opened, no link sent, no filing. And the appointment is read in five short chunks with a confirmation each time, not as one paragraph.
5. Three questions about income, not one. Gross versus net, exact frequency, and month-to-month variation. The net-versus-gross correction at ⌚ 12:30 is the highest-value ninety seconds in the call and it prevents the most common county query.
6. The cash cleaning work gets asked about explicitly. Almost no patient volunteers it and almost no script asks. Its absence from the form is what generates a query three weeks later.
7. "Put me on speaker first." She thinks tapping the link will hang up on the person helping her. One sentence, and it is the difference between an upload now and a missed window on Thursday.
8. The case closes at day 90, not at filing. Every path ends in verification, including the self-file path and the "I already sent it" path.

One thing deliberately absent. There is no point in any transcript where Maya says anything about whether Maria qualifies, how much she can earn, or what her deadline is unless it was read from the case record. Watch for it — the absence is the design.
